

SCHOOL LAND AS AN ISSUE

Former Kansas Democrat Travels Now in Oklahoma

TALKS WITH THE PEOPLE

Is Satisfied That Majority Oppose Sale of Land.

Guthrie, O. T., March 7.—"I have been traveling all over Oklahoma for the last five years and I think I am pretty well informed as to the sentiment of the people in regard to the selling of the school lands. All the indications now are that the forthcoming Republican convention will come out squarely in favor of holding the school lands as a sacred trust and it will oppose their sale. It is the Democratic party is induced to take the opposite, and favors selling the lands, the party will make the great blunder of its life. I am a Democrat and want my party to win in Oklahoma, but the sentiment among the thinking people of both parties is against selling the school lands and the Democratic party will be overwhelmingly defeated if it takes the unpopular side of this question. You may put the best Democrat in the territory on a platform pledged to the sale of the school lands and McGuire will show him under out of sight."

The above was an expression of D. R. Moser of this city today. He is on the road pretty much all the time and everybody knows that the opinion of the traveling man is always considered of value in politics. Mr. Moser has had experience in party management and for that reason his words will have weight with a good many Democrats in Oklahoma.

He was chairman of the fusion congressional committee in the Sixth district of Kansas in 1894 that pulled Baker through the caucus. When Long defeated Jerry Simpson, Mr. Moser was that year elected a delegate to the Democratic county convention of Lincoln and when the two conventions fused he was elected as one of the fusion delegates to the congressional convention at Colby in Thomas county which nominated Baker for congress and was made chairman of the congressional committee.

Evidence is beginning to accumulate all going to show that the Democratic territorial convention will have a lively scrap over the plank in the platform in regard to the disposal of the school lands. Some of the leading Democrats over the territory are representing the action of their party managers in trying to commit the party to a plank favoring the school lands even before the convention meets. Robert Neff of Blackwell has come out in favor of selling the school lands and it is claimed here that less than a dozen of the leading Democrats are in favor of selling the lands and investing the money in bonds of some kind that would be safe.

DEPUTY GRAIN INSPECTOR.

A. M. Jackson of El Reno Will Name One.

Guthrie, O. T., March 7.—A. H. Jackson of El Reno, territorial grain inspector, is here today making arrangements to place an inspector here. The numerous new railroads built into Guthrie is going to make it a big grain center and it will be necessary to have a territorial inspector here.

El Reno and Elmd at present are the only points at which inspectors are needed. There will also be an inspector assigned to Oklahoma City thus making the four stations that the law allows in the territory.

Mr. Jackson has established inspection for Oklahoma grain at Fort Worth and Gainesville, Tex. He calls it check inspection for the reason that it is not established by law. The grain dealers of Oklahoma accept the inspection and pay the fee and it counts as between the buyer and seller here and the stations costs Oklahoma nothing.

SCHOOL WARRANTS UNPAID.

Chickasaw Nation Teachers Are in Need of Their Cash.

Guthrie, O. T., March 7.—Teachers and educators in Oklahoma, as a general thing, find school warrants good for their face but at Tahlequah a call has been issued by Governor P. S. Moore, of the Chickasaw nation, for the convening of the Chickasaw council in extraordinary session, to be held here on March 14. The purpose of the meeting is to devise ways and means for paying the Chickasaw school warrants. These are far overdue working a hardship on the teachers and contractors with a result that they may refuse to work longer unless the warrants are paid. There is a sufficient sum in the United States treasury at St. Louis to the credit of the Chickasaw school fund to cash all the outstanding warrants and pay the expenses for the balance of the year, and it is believed the difficulty now existing can easily be remedied.

JUDGE GILLETTE'S VIEWS.

Doesn't Concede That the New State Will Be Democratic.

Guthrie, O. T., March 7.—The Oklahoma Supreme court closed its session last evening. Judge Gillette of Ardmore remained in the city today calling on friends. When asked what he thought of statehood he said:

"I think that a majority of the Republicans would prefer separate statehood for Oklahoma but now they realize that the powers that have been deposed that Oklahoma and the Indian territory shall constitute one state and now the people of Oklahoma have made up their minds to accept single statehood. As the Democrats would say that is now a closed incident. The people have seen the handwriting on the wall. They have been able to translate it and they are going to accept the inevitable."

"The impression seems to prevail among a good many people that if both territories are admitted as one state it would be strongly Democratic but I am not willing to concede that. I think it will be a battle ground where the Republicans will have a good fighting chance and I will not be surprised if they win. I have

Munyon's Paw-Paw Cures DYSPEPSIA

Cures NERVOUSNESS
Cures SLEEPLESSNESS

The penalty of over-eating or improper eating is dyspepsia or stomach trouble of some kind. The stomach is abused in one way or another by nearly everyone. Absolutely perfect digestion and assimilation of food is the exception.

No matter what the cause of the ailment I know that my Paw-Paw will cure Dyspepsia.

I know it will cure Nervousness
I know it will cure Sleeplessness
I know it will cure Catarrh
I know it will cure Rheumatism
I know it will invigorate the weak
I know it will restore exhausted Vitality

I know that the man or woman whose system has been fortified by my Paw-Paw will escape colds and all ordinary infections. When the body is run down, when the vital forces are low, when the nerves are unstrung, is when the disease finds an easy foothold. If my Paw-Paw is used whenever there is any suggestion of diminished vitality, or loss of appetite, or of indigestion, there will be perfect immunity from all the ordinary diseases.

There is another class who deserve our sympathy instead of our condemnation—the slaves of drink. My heart bleeds for them. They are as truly sufferers from disease as are the victims of rheumatism or of dyspepsia. I know that my Paw-Paw will put the strength of new manhood into them. I know that it will take away the appetite for intoxicants and lift them to a plane where self-mastery is sure.

I call upon ministers of the gospel, temperance workers and good citizens generally to try the effect of my Paw-Paw upon any sufferer from the drink habit.

I call upon wives whose husbands are addicted to the use of intoxicants to see how quickly my Paw-Paw will lift them into a new life—MUNYON.

been among the Indians a good deal in a business way and found them divided on politics the same as people here.

"Chief Bushhead used to be, I thought, the brightest man in the Cherokee nation. I heard some Indians over there once engaged in a very heated discussion and I asked him what they were discussing. He said they were Democrats and Republicans and were discussing the issues. I asked him what the issues were and he said they were principally the two leaves of bread and the three fishes."

"The chief told me that he was a Republican and when I asked how he came to be a Republican, he said he was in Washington once and went to the senate chamber. A tall man got up to talk when he thought resembled one of their old chiefs. He was Senator Ingalls of Kansas. He said he could hardly resist giving the war whoop and ever since that time he had been a Republican. Now when such little incidents determine the politics of an Indian you can not tell how they will vote."

"What do you think about the school lands?"
"That question may be made a political issue in the next election and I do not care to express any opinion in regard to it."

FIRE CROSSED THE LINE.

Beaver Had Prairie Fires Before the Big Storm.

Guthrie, O. T., March 7.—A report of a prairie fire that started in the southwest corner of Kansas and got into Beaver county and was burning for several days and nights of last week, has just been received here through the Guthrie Herald. The fire cleaned up a vast area of range and finally crossed the Rock Island track and proceeded north to the Cimarron. A second fire was started Sunday by a settler in Zach Cain's pasture. This fire went north and west and did much damage. Mr. Cain and his Steel lost part of their pasture and one informant states that C. R. Wright and C. C. Brown lost about all of their pastures, and that several other ranchmen likewise suffered material damage, and a few head of stock perished. Up to date of the conflagration the cattle ranchmen within the area swept over by the fire were doing fine. The fire will work a hardship on several ranchmen because they will have to move their stock to grass and away from feed, as so many of the stockmen have a sufficient quantity of feed to hold stock up till spring without grass.

Consumption at Last Conquered.

New York, March 7.—Cabled reports of Professor Adolf Hoff's success in curing consumption at the Vienna hospital have resulted in the New York Journal and American taking up the matter. This newspaper, at its own expense, sent Frederick Hamman, selected as an advanced case from the many thousands of consumptives in New York to Professor Hoff as a test case. He has returned cured and has been accepted by the New York Life Insurance company. This has led to the establishment of a bureau in this city which is the centre of a widespread movement to cure consumption in the United States. Books on the cure of consumption and asthma by Professor Hoff, and how to avoid the disease, are mailed free to all who write to the American Bureau, 41 Third Avenue, New York. Two hundred cases have been cured in this city.

TALKS ON SALT PLAINS.

Prof. Gould Tells of the Salt Product of Western Oklahoma.

Norman, O. T., March 7.—Prof. Gould, of the Oklahoma university, talks on the salt plains and springs of Oklahoma as follows:

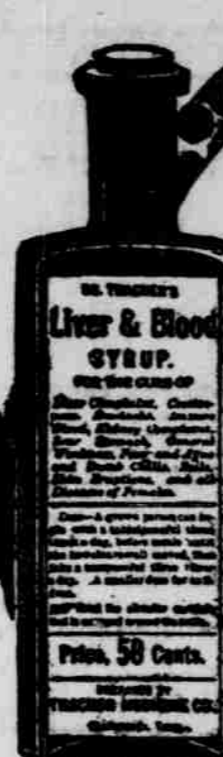

"It is known to many people that salt water is found in practically all parts of Oklahoma's red beds, but comparatively few know anything about the salt plains and salt springs of western Oklahoma, and the amount of salt found in these. These plains and springs of salt occur in Woods, Woodward, Blaine, Roger Mills and Greer counties. Salt has been found in all of the counties mentioned and salt springs in but four of them.

"Woodward and Greer counties have two each, while Blaine, Woods and Roger Mills counties have but one each.

"Most of these salt plains are fed by salt springs are near the surface of the salt plains, while others can not be located.

"The Woods county plain or the Big Salt Plain is located just south of the Salt Fork of the Arkansas river in the eastern part of the county, and some thirty-five miles from the Gypsum hills. This plain includes an area of sixty square miles, extending some twelve miles north and south and six miles east and west. This plain is as level as a floor and on ordinary occasions as white as a snow field. It is absolutely barren of vegetation. How this plain is fed is yet to be discovered. Around the edges some few salt springs are found, but of no consequence. Upon digging a hole a few feet deep and anywhere in the plain in ten minutes the hole will be filled with salt water. 50 per cent salt. The plain is composed of loose sand and the salt water seeping up near the surface evaporates leaving the white crystalline salt incrustations. It is indeed a large salt plain and is dangerous for one not acquainted with it to go across it.

"The people in the vicinity of the salt plain tell of travelers who have lost their lives in attempting to cross it. In Woodward county there are two salt plains in the valley of the Cimarron river. These salt plains are not as large as the Big Plain, but cover considerable area. On the south side of the plains a number of salt springs are found. Some of these flow a stream as large as a man's arm. Enough salt has crystallized around some of these springs to be scraped up and hauled away.

"The Blaine county or Salt Plain is a canyon at the foot of the Gypsum hills of Blaine county. This plain is fed by salt springs which come from the Gypsum hills.

"The plain covers an area of 100 yards by three miles. The Salt creek plain is the nearest fuel which comes from the Indian Territory, and as far as commercial advantages are concerned, it seems to be the salt plain of Oklahoma. For several years primitive salt plains have been operated. Their method of evaporating salt is very simple. A hole is dug in the loose sand of the plains, and as this fills the salt water is pumped into vats and the liquid evaporated. It is said that three bucketfuls of brine make one of salt. The salt is hauled in wagons to supply local trade and the demand is said to exceed the supply.

"This plain is estimated to flow enough salt water to supply a state with salt and nearly all of it now goes to waste.

"The Oklahoma Salt Company, of which J. C. Robb, W. F. Hort and H. E. Belt are the chief men, have begun the erection of a 50-barrel plant at Ferguson, O. T., on the Choctaw Northern railroad near the salt plain. This company is erecting a large plant and will use steam in operating the entire plant. The water will be pumped two and one-half miles in two and one-half inch pipes. This should be a very successful enterprise if handled properly.

"There is enough salt in this one plain to supply Oklahoma for all time and if it can be secured cheap enough, it can be made a very profitable industry. Salt springs occur in Roger Mills and Greer counties. The one in Roger Mills is small and little known. The one in Greer county has supplied local cattlemen with salt for a number of years."
